16 - The instructor did the following things well ...

- covered needed material
- Dr. Mostowfi is an excellent professor. He did everything he could to make sure we understood everything presented. My favorite class and professor by far.
- Explained concepts well, and answered questions when needed.
- He knew the material very well and I was able to follow easily.
- He knew the material, but not how to teach it
- He was very good at asking if we had any questions all the time and you could tell he wanted us to learn the material he was teaching. If you had a question outside of class or a problem he was very good at working with you to help you solve whatever you needed. I always knew when assignments were due and what was expected in them from the instructions
- Helped with issues students had and was patient when doing so.
- I have no idea; I almost never went to class.
- No comment
- Nothing
- taught asin a good manner
- Taught class well.
- Very good student engagement, always seemed willing to help and work with students to make sure they were not at a disadvantage.

17 - In what ways could the instructor improve the effectiveness of her/his instruction?

- Again, I have no idea; I almost never went to class.
- improve on hand writing difficult to read. explain more on the difficult concepts of programming. how to effectivily start programs on the computer.
- N/A
- No comment
- nothing
- Nothing really.
- Nothing, good class!
- Only a couple things I can think of is maybe go over some of the beginning materials more that some people in the class may not be as familiar with than others.
- slow down certain topics. Helps to non majors to keep up.
- Slow down when writing on the board. If you slow down and write more clearly it would take just as long as when students have to continue to ask what your writing says... Or go to power point or something along those lines. For the python section... something a little more than just doing a bunch of examples that you copied from another guys book would be helpful. I really didn’t learn anything in class on the python portion, had to go hoe and self teach. And if I am having to self teach myself half the course why am I paying to be there?
- Teaching and not being so rude to his students. Move slower and want to help us.
- This is a 101 class, but the instructor made the difficulty of the course more like a 300 level course. I have above a 3.5 GPA; I know that this class should not have been harder than my upper level business courses, but it was.
- work through solutions before class. Sometimes he confused himself in the middle of class making class more difficult to keep track of.

He was very clear with his lecture and was willing to explain concepts 2 or 3 different ways. It was obvious that Mehrgon has extensive knowledge about the topics and concepts, but it's also worth noting that he doesn't think his knowledge is infinite. Many times, he admitted not knowing the answer to a specific question, and then either looked it up or had a class member look it up to provide the answer. I honestly think the only areas for improvement would be to learn a little more about Python and improve your handwriting, if possible!!

The vast majority of work we did for the class was fair and had more than enough completion time. However, the end of semester project wasn't given much explanation.

The strengths of the class/instructor is that he teaches you everything about the basics of computers and computer science before we start programming. It was nice to learn all of that info before programming and it was also nice to have a month or two of just pure programming. Great teacher and good class.

Professor Mostowfi is very knowledgeable on this topic of computer science. I learned more on the topic than I have previously, which strengthened my resolve to become a software engineering major.

When it comes to the Python course of the class, he is certainly a great person to come to for questions. He helped clear up some confusion I had, and helped me gain a better understanding of the software.

One slightly confusing part of the class is during tests, when he tells us about the 'questions'. When we studied for the midterm, and he said there were 8 questions, people thought that there would be eight questions. So we were surprised during test day when we saw the 'eight questions' were more like eight sections, with multiple questions per section. It might be a good idea to clarify on this to avoid future confusion.

Time management could be improved, the class had a tendency to get draggy. If I had an hour to live I would spend it in this class because it feels like an eternity.

Besides this, his knowledge of the topic is very good. Explanations are clear.

The instructor was great, very helpful in office hours and if you asked questions. The class being an hour and 15 minutes was sometimes hard to pay attention for the full time since it is all lecturing. Maybe try to not lecture for the full time, but I thought the instructor was very good.

The only thing that could be changed is that the class should be taught away from computers when they are not necessary because a lot of the students aren't paying attention and messing around on the computers.

MehreGAN tended to rush through certain topics, leaving some people confused. However, he was more than willing to listen to questions, which allowed for better understanding. He was really helpful for homework questions, and managed to describe coding concepts really well.

Strengths:
• Lets us use cheat sheet for exams.
• Really cares about grades. If you get a bad score he emails you to have a meeting concerning the grade.
• Really tries!! 😊

Improvement:
• Slow down!!!
• Gives assignments he hasn't taught in class kinda confusing.
• Improve quality of handwriting.
  - But your foreign so its ok.

• Should supply us with dinky calculators. The problems on exams need a calculator and finding a dinky calculator is hard.

The instructor knew the material he was teaching, but he made learning the material difficult because he didn't explain more than one way.

Also, handwriting was bad and hard to read.

This professor is great at teaching the material and very knowledgeable about it. His handwriting is hard to read, but he knows that.

Dr. Mostowfi is an excellent instructor. Very approachable. Very knowledgeable.
The only negative thing is more time needs to be allowed on programming quizzes.

- Slow down with your writing on the board... If you slow down and write more clearly, we won't have to stop everything to have you read it.

- Super open and willing to help when needed.

Strengths:
- Lots of examples, room for questions

Areas of Improvement:
- Sometimes seem a bit flustered or confused if doing additional examples not from lecture notes
